

Evolution in Clinical Trial Experience

From Site-Centric Model

Traditional Clinical Trial:

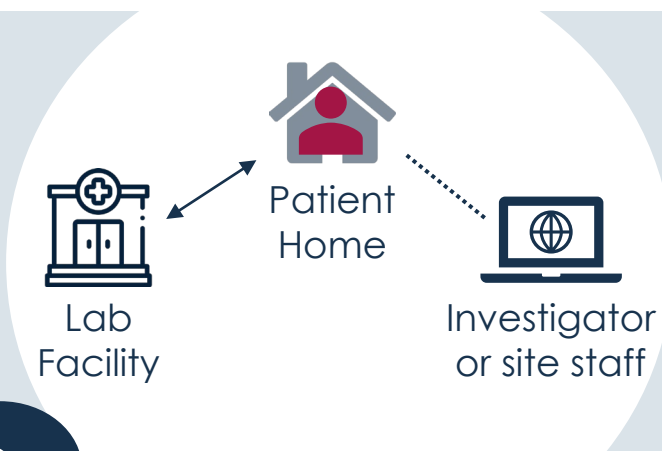

Patients are seen in hospitals or clinics

To Patient-Centric Options

Decentralized Clinical Trial:

Study nurses, phlebotomists, and virtual investigators come to the patient's home

Or

Traditional Clinical Trial:

Patients are seen in hospitals or clinics

Why Choose the Decentralized Option?

The Patient Experience

From enrollment through study completion all study procedures and assessments are done from the comfort of their home on a schedule that works best for them.

The Visit Experience

All visits will be coordinated remotely.

Visits conducted will be a mix of telemedicine and home health visits.

The Referring Physician Experience

Routine medical care and follow up remains with the referring doctor during study participation.

Decentralized investigator involvement is limited only to the clinical trial requirements.

Information about the participant can be shared with the physician.
